PROJECTS

Itadaki   Live Site | Github
Itadaki is a splitwise clone, which allows users to split bills between their friends.

- Leveraged Rails use of helper methods that can be called in multiple files to create code that is DRY.
- Implemented custom validations on Rails backend to check that inserted values on the frontend are dynamic.
- Built custom API routes that allowed my frontend to speak with the backend POSTGRES database allowing for efficient communication between the two.
- Constructed HTML5 layouts with appropriate classnames allowing for a better user experience and navigation.

Hoarder   Live Site | Github
A JS arcade type game that allows a user to traverse a play area with the sole objective to collect dots.

- Implement a Canvas layout onto a HTML5 webpage.
- Leveraged vanilla JS to allow a player to traverse a play area using event keys linked to the keyboard.
- Implemented dynamic dot creation allowing for varying speed and directional dots.
